

By road

We would advise against driving to Tothill Street as parking in the area is not easy. There is a limited number of meters in Tothill Street itself, and an NCP car park in Rochester Row (five minutes' walk).

By rail

Nearest train station is Victoria from where you can take a taxi (about five minutes) or one stop on the underground to St. James's Park (east bound District and Circle Line.) Alternatively, the office is only a five minute taxi ride from Waterloo Station.

By underground

Nearest underground is St. James's Park (District and Circle Line). Take the Park and Broadway exit. Walk through the small arcade of shops. You should exit by a zebra crossing. Cross over the street here and you will be on Tothill Street. Watson Wyatt is about one minute up on the right. The office is also only a five minute walk from Westminster Station (Jubilee line).
